

Camp Woodland for girls

WHERE EVERYONE KNOWS YOUR NAME

Camp Woodland, a residential summer camp for girls, ages 7-16, welcomes 80 campers a year to the beautiful Northwoods of Wisconsin. Four generations of trusted educators have owned and operated Woodland for the past seventy years. While we offer two- and four-week sessions, an intentional approach to child development and purposeful play defines every aspect of the six weeks that make up our longest, most popular session.

Acclimate

COMING TOGETHER IS A BEGINNING

During the first two weeks at camp, you'll adjust to your new summer home. You will meet your counselors and cabin mates of similar age from all over the US and abroad. Your group will quickly connect as you discover all the cool things you have in common.

Dare to Explore

There is never a dull moment at camp! You will select six activities to take every day for a two-week period. Which ones are entirely up to you — learn new skills or practice old ones. Evenings are reserved for spending time with your cabin, weekly theme activities, cookouts, campfires, and so much more. Anticipate a special event every Sunday such as Gold Rush or Fair Day.

Over the opening two weeks, you and your cabin group choose ideals to live by — principles such as respect, honesty, enthusiasm, and fun — and compile them into a cabin contract. At the end of the second week, we honor this pact, new friendships, and the family we will become through a special Cabin Unity Campfire, including lots of zany songs and silly skits!

BROTHER & SISTER CAMPS

Camp Woodland is the sister camp of Towering Pines Camp for Boys, located a few miles away. Though their programs are separate, brothers and sisters share a common camp experience with several opportunities to see one another throughout the summer.

WORKING TOGETHER IS PROGRESS

After establishing your rhythm in the first part of the summer, the next two weeks really take off! You may decide to challenge yourself with a new activity (or two) or strive for greater mastery of an old one. Having been together for a while, your cabin group usually discovers that not everyone agrees all of the time. We embrace this opportunity for the real work of camp to begin!

With the support of your counselors, you learn to come together and appreciate each other's unique gifts and strengths. Song Contest is a highlight of this 2-week period. You will be amazed at what cabin groups can do when they put their heads together, change the words to a song, add in some creative dance moves, and practice for an all-camp performance. Behind the smiling faces during show time is the teamwork, negotiation, compromise, and problem-solving that went into accomplishing a common goal.

RENEE / PARENT

She learned independence and how to coexist with new friends (a BIG change for a child with helicopter parents).

At camp, one geeky only child could find out, a little bit at a time, who she is — while feeling warm, safe and protected.

KEEPING TOGETHER IS SUCCESS

Camp is a BLAST during the last two weeks because of the effort poured into the weeks preceding it. Friendships are closer, confidence is stronger, and experiences are unforgettable. New abilities and perfected skills, honed over an extended period of time, become manifest. You can't help but to stand a little taller.

At Woodland, my daughter is free to run, play, and be a kid.

LISA / PARENT

Spirit is at an all time high. During the all-camp Olympics, teams of mixed ages choose a name, mascot, and colors to express their united desire to excel in numerous activities over the course of the two-day competition. You will be well-cheered in every event — no matter the outcome!

Applause forms the fabric of each day as we recognize achievements and successes. At Final Banquet, the entire camp comes together to toast each camper for her unique contributions to her cabin family. Activity achievements are recognized by announcing levels passed and awards earned.

Standing out is the exact right way to fit in.

ATHENA / COUNSELOR

While banquet represents a high point, Parents' Weekend is the summit of the camp experience. You've worked all summer to prepare for it: stretching a million splits, tying a million knots, pouring a million piles of glitter, shooting a million targets, grooming a million horses. Being able to show it all off to your family and friends during the final performances is nothing short of magical.

Friends are now sisters, camp is now home, and you are part of the Woodland family forever. We can't wait to see you next year!
